

Introduction to Reading Resources

Updated January 2010

BOOKS Athena http:// www.tfc.edu/library

- Regular book collection 372.4 Use library catalog
- E-book collection (available through Athena)

PERIODICALS TFC GALILEO Select Teacher education

- Wilson OmniFile:Full Text Select Narrow by “education”
A multidisciplinary, 100% full-text database providing articles and their accompanying indexing and abstracts. Includes approximately 250 education journals
- Professional Development Collection
A specialized collection of journal articles and pamphlets especially for professional educators that includes abstract and index coverage for 435 professional development titles Use Find it feature
- Research Library
Database providing full text for over 1,040 scholarly journals and general magazines GALILEO Edition is a special subset of Research Library that has been created to avoid duplication of content available in other GALILEO resources. Use Find IT feature

INTERNET SITES

- International Reading Association <http://www.reading.org>
International organization dedicated to improving reading instruction, disseminating research and information and promoting life long learning..Publications include The Reading Teacher, Journal of Adolescent and Adult Literacy, and Reading Research Quarterly. All three are full text in our databases.
- Read Write Think <http://www.readwritethink.org/index.asp>
Lessons, standards, web resources, and student materials in Reading and Language Arts instruction
- ERIC Digest <http://www.ericdigests.org/>
One way to access the ERIC Digests (education articles) produced by the former ERIC Clearinghouse system.
- Educator’s Reference Desk <http://www.eduref.org/>
Internet-based service providing education information including lesson plans and teacher resources.
- Gateway Educational Resources <http://thegateway.org>
One stop access to quality lesson plans, curriculum units and other educational resource.